Description

In a really clean and tidy restored condition this eight seater walnut dining table is a good solid example. Sitting on a turned leg it dates from around 1900. It has two leaves, both of which are differing sizes to give maximum flexibility. Exact size is displayed below. This walnut table is viewable in our showrooms and there are chairs available if required. We have about 50 antique dining tables in stock most of the time, always worth a call or a visit. We open most Fridays and Saturdays or other days by appointment. Please check before a visit though. This flexible good looking table is 131 cms long when closed and has two leaves, one of 17 the other of 32, the leg ht is a bit better than may at 60 cms off the ground to the underside of the rail, for other sizes please see below. A very good useable table that is not going to break the bank.
