Description

A charming Victorian turn front leg nursing chair upholstered in a wonderful spring green. It would make a lovely wedding or christening gift. The original four castors make this piece distinguished and easy to move. This antique was produced in the Victorian period (1837 - 1901). The Victorian era was the period of Queen Victoria's reign, from 20 June 1837 until her death on 22 January 1901. It was a long period of peace, prosperity, "refined sensibilities" and national self-confidence for the United Kingdom. Some scholars date the beginning of the period in terms of sensibilities and political concerns to the passage of the Reform Act 1832.
