Description

Antique Edwardian mahogany settee with some fine satinwood inlays. It's in good original condition & is being presented just as we acquired it. The upholstery is in good condition & the frame is sturdy. This settee has finely turned legs & uprights, with shaped fretwork supports between the back & the seat. In fact, if you look closely at the fretwork designs, you can make out an Art Nouveaux influence. I've only just noticed that. I would date this piece to around the 1890-1910 period. Length - 48", 122 cm Depth - 18.3", 49 cm Height - 30.3", 77 cm Seat Height - 16.5", 42 cm
