Description

This mahogany kneehole desk is in really tidy condition, a most useable and functional size with a larger than normal kneehole to get your legs in. The top is in red, that could be changed for whatever colour leather you might like if required (approx cost £200 plus vat) . We must stress however that there is no problem with what is there and it is useable as it is. The sides are tidy and french polished and so is the back so it does not have to go against a wall. Very keenly priced in this tidy condition at only £775. It comes to pieces for delivery or collection, so a fairly easy move too.
