Description

A superb SOLID SILVER GOBLET was made by Charles Stuart Harris in 1902. The goblet is of plain form and stands on a raised base, which has a rope-twist edging decoration, and a knobbled stem. The gilt finish to the bowl is still present and the goblet is free from any added monograms, initials or added engravings. Despite being over 100 years old this is in excellent condition and would make a lovely presentation gift or add to any collection.
