Description

This glass lamp was probably once a candlestick and we date it to be from around 1910-1930. Our electrician has wired it to UK specifications and fitted it with an online switch. The lamp measures 37cm in height in total, and up to where the glass drip pan is at the top, it is 27cm in height. The base is approximately 14cm in diameter. There are six long angular glass drops, all fitted with little round glass beads, and these are original. It is all in very good condition, with no signs of cracks or damage. The price includes postage and packing within the UK mainland only, and for outside the mainland or abroad, please contact us for a quote for delivery.
