Description

A large antique pine double wardrobe, in excellent condition throughout. It dates from the late 19th Century, from the French / German border. As with most of our large wardrobes, this particular one totally dismantles. This makes delivery and access possible, even through the most difficult of doorways and stairways. The lovely panelled doors are mounted on the original French external hinges, allowing them to open fully - a very useful feature! Stood on nice looking bracket feet. A new brass hanging rail will be fitted. Please let us know if you would like a shelf made to be placed above the rail. Recently stripped to the bare wood exposing this beautiful light natural unrefined state - It can be purchased like this for £800. The price including our professional wax polishing service £897 Height 80", width 60", depth 23", internal depth 19"
