Description

An outstanding Victorian silver dinner service by the great George W Adams. This extremely rare set bears the sought after distinction of not only being by the same desirable maker, but being the same Assay date and featuring a matching crest of a rampant lion. The set comprises 12 each of table forks, dessert forks, dessert spoons and teaspoons. It has 8 matching serving/table spoons. There are several additional items listed separately, which belong to the service, including a pair of gravy/sauce ladles and butter knife. Given that so much flatware has been lost to scrap over the last few years, a surviving complete set by the same maker and same date is an extraordinary find.
