Description

-Welcome to Mersham Manor Antiques- A wonderful characterful solid oak Georgian mule chest. c1760. With five raised and fielded panels to the front, over an arrangement of drawers, the top three drawers being decorative dummie drawers over three drawers to the base. The top lifts up to reveal a large storage area, with fitted candle box and two small drawers below. The chest has an unusual locking system for the lower drawers, there are wooden bolt-locks which are in the chest section, which are simply pushed down to lock the lower drawers. Also another excellent and unusual feature of the chest is that the top can be lifted off very easily, which is a great advantage because of its large size and obvious weight being solid oak. Instead of fixed metal hinges the chest lid has wooden pegs which slot into holes holding it in place, but can easily be unhooked when needed to move etc. The chest is large in scale, which simply makes it very stunning, plus giving a vast amount of storage space. Great in a hallway-or the end of the bed, so a very beautiful and practical piece of antique Georgian furniture. The overall condition is excellent antique condition. With expe...
