Description

An original pair of vintage early 20th century wall lights with original glass shades. A stylish pair of wall lights, quite rare to find a matching pair, rewired ready to be installed, milky white tubular glass shades with chrome fittings and backplates, with stepped holders and finials to both top and bottom. In excellent condition. Originating from England, these would of most likely come from a bathroom or perhaps a hall way. Condition is excellent, given their 80 odd years, there is no pitting or heavy tarnishing to the chrome and the glass is free from damage.
