Description

A stunning late 18th Century three plate mirror surrounded by a rich mahogany and giltwood frame with carved oak leaf details. This fabulous mirror is typical of the design fashionable in the late 17th and early 18th Centuries when William Kent was a strong influence. The mirror is in very good condition with the original mercury glass plate which is softly patinated. The main image shows edited glass, the other photos show the actual mercury glass plate. A wonderful addition to any interior scheme. c.1790 Width: 48" (122cm) Height: 26.5" (67.5cm)
