Description

A 19th Century Sycamore dairy bowl with unusual side handles. This attractive antique wooden bowl would add character and style to a traditional kitchen display or make a lovely centrepiece for a table. There is some wear compatible to age and use to one handle, but the bowl is solid and this does not detract from the piece, but adds to the rustic charm, please see photos for detail. A fabulous piece to add country style to any interior. (Set of boules not included) Width: 18" (46cm) Height: 5.5" (14cm)
