Description

It certainly is a rare find to find a meat / serving platter complete with the original cover or dome, so I was really delighted to find this gem and to make it more special the matching Armorial Crests on both the platter and Dome are of military interest, for the 15th (York, East Riding) regiment. Underneath the crest is Martinique / Guadeloupe, presumably celebrating an anniversary of this invasion. The regiment was deployed to the West Indies in 1795 for service in the French Revolutionary Wars and fought at attacks on Martinique and Guadeloupe before returning to England in 1796. The regiment returned to the West Indies in 1805 for service in the Napoleonic Wars and took part in the invasion of Martinique in January 1809 and the invasion of Guadeloupe in January 1810. There is a makers mark to one side of the dome, which I haven't as yet identified and EPNS for Electro-Plated Nickel Silver. Both platter and cover are in superb antique condition with minor wear commensurate with age. The platter measures 19" x 15" and the cover, 15 1/2" x 12" x 9 1/2" to top of handle.
