Description

Large pair of decorative late C19th cast stone-ware or terracotta finials modelled as pine cones or acanthus flower buds . Smart pair of finials possibly originally designed to sit atop gate piers , highly decorative statement that would work well in either an interior or exterior scheme . Raised upon turned socles onto square plinth bases . Cast in hollow form , hence of surprisingly low weight and would comfortably sit upon a console table or side table . In excellent original condition with minor weathering and colour variance , minor chips to surface and wear to bases. No breaks or repairs. H 21" W 11" D 11" England c.1870
