Description

Beautiful two-part mahogany chest of drawers dating from the early 19th Century, set on bracket feet. This stunning chest is most unusual because it comes in two parts, the top part is held in place by small pegs. It is an example of early campaign style furniture, when craftsmen were experimenting with making furniture more portable while still conforming to traditional styles. The chest is inlaid with moulded edges and is set on elegant bracket feet and has the original round brass ring pull handles. The whole piece is excellent quality and very well made with a lovely rich patina. The drawers run well and it is a clean sturdy piece of furniture. There are minor signs of age and use and some light marks and surface scratches around the chest and a small watermark on the top but nothing to concern us and they display beautifully. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask. Nationwide delivery available, please contact us to discuss a quote.
