Description

A stylish antique Victorian black-japanned side chair dating from circa 1880. Decorated all over with gilt lines and flower sprays, the shaped top-rail and spindle-filled back above a stuffed seat on slender baluster legs. This delicate late Victorian design is loosely derived from late 17th century models and follows the mid-19th century fashion for black-japanned and gilt-decorated papier-mâché work. Good condition. Frame solid and sturdy. Upholstery fair condition, newly recovered in a good quality faux suede. Because it is quite low, it would make a wonderful dressing table chair. Construction/Wood: Japanned wood Condition Report: Good condition. Frame solid and sturdy. Upholstery fair condition, newly recovered in a good quality faux suede. Wear and marks commensurate with age. Dimensions: Width: 47cm Depth: 45cm Height to seat: 39cm Height: 96cm
