Description

Matching pair of antique mahogany chests with serpentine shaped fronts, brass handles & splayed feet. It's quite rare to find a pair of chests this size & I think they have been reconstructed or adapted some time ago from some other antique furniture. There is a very slight difference in height, but not noticeable when they are apart from each other. It's hard to estimate the age, because like I said they have probably been adapted from something else old, however the wood used could well be 18th century. the backs are old pine. These chests are in great condition. Width - 27", 69 cm Depth - 34", 85 cm Height - 17", 43 cm
