Description

This is certainly one for the bell collector, a really unusual counter or desk bell, the like I have not seen before. Victorian in era, the base is made from a hefty piece of cut crystal without damage. The bell and clapper are made from English brass and the very top terminates in a cut crystal finial. Once pushed the lets out a fine authoritative ring. Victorian in era, the bell dates to around 1880. 3 1/2" diameter x 6 1/2" tall.
