Description

Three large panels of Antique French hand-blocked wallpaper, circa 1900-1920, the khaki/brown ground hand-blocked in chocolate brown and white with floral posies and overlaid in gold with flowering branches and leaves, with later brown and gilt enriched frames with plexiglass. The photograph of three panels is a repeat of one of the panels as they are extremely difficult to photograph without reflection on the glass. They are all identical and the design is consistent overall despite appearing to be brighter at the centre which is only due to the lighting. The gold overlay is very reflective and catches the light beautifully. Each panel measures 211cm high x 61cm wide.
