Description

Top Quality 2 Seater Antique Sofa - Late Victorian - c1900 A most pleasing antique sofa presented in very good antique condition Of classic late Victorian style Delightfully heavy, bearing testimony to the quality of the traditional craftsmanship Seating two persons in comfort Benefiting from a 'drop-arm' allowing full stretch for the longer legged occupants It should be noted that the 'drop-arm' is very stable, has a good action, and is free of the wobbles/looseness often occurring in lesser quality sofas of this period The sofa benefits from generous, deep, squashy feather filled seat cushions, which provide the correct balance of comfort and support Rising from castors with original oak bun feet to the front Desirable blue chenille fabric is both soft and warm. The fabric is relatively recent and in good clean order. There are marks on the fabric which appear to be from spillages - these appear at the front sides/corners and on the front lower panel. They are not evident in some light, and indeed many purchasers may opt to ignore them and enjoy the sofa as is. Do please see the images for full details. Overall the textile to the sofa is very good and it is unfortunat...
