Description

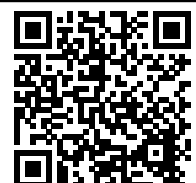

The quality brass telescope by Berge London with Table tripod & various lenses all fitted in a period mahogany box with brass corners, lock & key together with a large mahogany tripod with quality brass fittings, the telescope is in original lacquer with some markings but in very good no damage to the lens, all adjustable I have it set up looking onto a hillside about 4 miles away. , Berge ran the business. When Ramsden died, in 1800 Berge took over, styling himself as "Berge, Late Ramsden". He worked under his own name from 1802 to 1817, in London, at 199 Piccadilly, so possibly the transition period 1800-1802 was a period where he might have styled himself as 'Berge, late Ramsden. Super fun practical telescope. Lens Diameter 2 1/2" Box measurements Length 31 3/4" Height 4 1/2" Depth 6 3/4" Stand Length 59"
