

SA475503

Lantern Clock George Clarke Leadenhall Street London for Turkish market

Price

Sold*Item Reference: SA475503*Date of manufacture: 1750

Dimensions

Height = 36 cm (14.2")

Width = 20 cm (7.9")

Depth = 18 cm (7.1")

Description

A Georgian verge lantern clock by noted maker George Clarke of Leadenhall Street, London. He was known for making clocks for the Turkish Ottoman Empire. This example has crescent moons worked into the corner spandrels and the original fine quality crescent moon side doors. The original finial and cast bell. The original verge escapement to the 30 hour duration rope driven mechanism. Made to be wall hanging or can be mounted on the supplied later well made oak bracket. Circa 1745. George Clarke of Leadenhall Street in London is recorded in Baillies' 'Clockmakers and Watchmakers of The World' book as working 1725-1787. A fine table clock, Turkish market clock and a clock in a museum is noted. Height (to top finial) 14" / 36 cms Width 8" / 20 cms Depth 7" / 18 cms. From Kembery Antique Clocks Ltd you can expect a genuine Lantern clock that has been serviced with a guarantee. Worldwide delivery available.

Seller Details

Kembery Antique Clocks Ltd

Bristol United Kingdom

Tel: 0117 956 5281

International Tel: +44 117 956 5281

