Description

An 17th Century High Back Inlaid Oak Marriage Settle. This is a stunning piece, the whole settle is carved with Coates of Arms, all best explained from the carving on the front. It is dated 1661 and the names of Henry Graye and Dorothy Graye are carved on either side, this was no doubt a piece made to commemorate their marriage and the joining of 2 great families. The Settle has 6 intricately carved back panels and an intricate top rail, in the centre of which we have the entwined initials of H.D.G, these are repeated at the side, 2 other panels show the family Coates of Arms and below 4 large panels declaring the giving of Service to the King, the top of the side pillars are carved with kings heads. The panels are bordered with chevron inlay in Ebony and Box Wood. The bench has an opening seat and Shepherd's crook arms. The Settle is in very good condition considering it is nearly 4 hundred years old, and it is a superb looking piece. The settle is 60" high at the back and 53" wide, it is 24" deep. RB301.
