Description

Fine quality heavy "tooth" shaped horn and brass bound and inlayed Georgian Scottish snuff mull. Dating from the late 18th century this is a very nice example. Has a brass lever at the base which when turned would dispense a small portion of snuff. The lift off top has a brass disk with the name J SCOTT nicely engraved on it. Very good condition for its age. One of the nicest of this type I have seen, they don't appear very often. SIZE; 4 1/2" long by 2" wide at the top CIRCA; 1780
