Description

A late 18th Century chinoiserie japanned corner cupboard beautifully decorated in the oriental taste with temples, figures, exotic birds, flowers and foliage. The colour and patina of this piece are superb. The interior of this 18th Century cupboard has 3 shelves and the doors are lined with a decorative historic paper. The lock is missing but the original catches enable one door to be securely fastened, whilst the other door pushes shut and stays closed. There have been a few historic repairs carried out over the years, mainly to the bottom cornice, please refer to the photographs for details. The general condition can be described as 'shabby chic'. The decoration is well done and in good condition and the colours have a lovely warm glow. This is a very charming antique chinoiserie and its appealing country house condition combine to make this a brilliant decorative piece to add style to any interior. c.1790 Height; 36.75" (93.5cm) Depth: 16.25" (41.5cm)
