Description

Good quality Edwardian solid oak and silver plated oval tray. The oval oak base has a half round mould round the edge. The silver plated gallery and handles are all in good order and are a nice shape. The tray retains its original silver plated feet also. The central silver plated oval plate has no initials on it only the makers mark as can be seen. There is a small slither of oak off the underside of one edge but this cannot be seen unless you turn the tray upside down. Nice colour and most of the original plating is present. SIZE; 22" by 14" by 2 3/4" high CIRCA; 1910
