Description

An outstanding Georgian carved giltwood mirror dating from the reign of George II with decoration typical of this period. This antique mirror, which is in landscape form, is exquisitely carved with scrolls, acanthus leaves, roundels and a distinctive and important pediment with cherubs head. The condition is excellent, the plate is not original, but appears to have been within the outer frame for some time. A rare and outstanding mirror ready to add decorative impact to any interior. c.1740 Width: 44" (112cm) Height: 35.5" (90cm) Depth: 3.75" (9.5cm)
