Description

An extremely well drawn 19th century figured walnut deep buttoned leather upholstered chesterfield in the manner of Gillows. Having beautifully pronounced shaped scrolling arms and shaped breakfront edge this fine chesterfield has been upholstered in a very good quality deep buttoned hand dyed leather hyde. Dating to circa 1860-1880. The elegant design has a sprung deep buttoned seat, back and arms making this a very comfortable chesterfield. The front turned legs being made of solid figured walnut retaining their original refurbished gilt brass castors with the same to the rear. Although not stamped we feel this chesterfield can be attributed to Gillows of Lancaster as the quality and design is first class having a good heavy frame, we also have images available of an almost identical turned walnut chesterfield leg of the same quality stamped Gillows for reference. A superb quality chesterfield having the sought after rare scrolling arms upholstered in a stunning hand dyed leather with brass studwork. A very desirable chesterfield to any private individual with a discerning eye or collector alike.
