Description

Wonderful, Early 19th century oak dresser . Dating to around 1800 . Predominantly made of oak with some elm and pine carcass, great colour and patina ..supplied with 4 keys and working locks for each cupboard . It is a very characterful piece and has had some repairs over the years (but haven't we all) but this only adds to the history and style of the piece ... This piece was purchased direct from a house in north Wales . H 89 inches W 74 inches D 22 inches . We can also offer the viewing an item via FaceTime (if you have an iPad or iPhone) This is a very useful tool, as we can then give you a 360 degree view of any item, and answer any questions 'face to face"! It has had signs of old woodworm but our restoration team and given it a treatment just to be on the safe side
