Description

This can be an eight seat dining table or a square supper table plus a round table or two console tables. It represents Georgian ingenuity to facilitate in one piece of furniture, multiple uses. The square table with its side panels fixed, stands on a quadripartite base standing on bun feet with internal castors. The two "D" ends or console tables each stand on four ring turned legs ending in brass castors. The quality and colour of the mahogany is superb and the overall condition is excellent, there are some veneer losses to the base as can be seen.
