Description

Description: Extremely rare fine Edwardian two door mahogany inlaid display china cabinet. With curved glass sides and serpentine glass front. The glass cutter here was most certainly sweating when this was cut. Serpentine glass panel, probably the most difficult free hand cut one can attempt. Such is the difficulty that it would have taken more than a few broken pains of glass to achieve this amazing serpentine fronted glass cabinet panel. I have in my day freehand cut crown glass for astragal bookcases at about 7/10 success rate I seem to remember. The hand and nerve required to cut a wide sheet of thin serpentine glass requires one single movement of constant pace and pressure applied whilst going up and down over a wave maintaining constant movement and pressure from start to finish. Extremely skilful. The central serpentine glass panel has two small drawers below giving balance to the cabinets sublime features, fielded and satinwood banded convex and concave lower panels surrounding the ...show more description Dimensions Height = 182 cm (72") Width = 132 cm (52") Depth = 46 cm (18")
