Description

A late 18th century c.1760 "plum" mahogany Bureau of the finest quality. With Three secret drawers, two which are almost impossible to find without being shown. The design of this bureau is clearly influenced by "Chippendale". The internal fittings are really stylish with blind fretwork on the internal drawer fronts and the arches of the document holders, the writing surface is in gold tooled burgundy leather. Additional features include canted corners to the bureau and fine "ogee" feet. A very fine 18th century Bureau. OPEN 6 DAY'S MON to SAT 2000 sq ft.
