Description

A really fantastic and most unusual Edwardian novelty inkwell in the form of a Scottish curling stone. Made from hand-blown crystal, it is intricately hand-cut and the underside having a polished pontil mark. The lid is mounted with the curling stone handle made from turned Ebony wood and mounted with sterling silver. The hinged lid opens to reveal a removable ink chamber making it easy to refill and clean. The silver mounts are fully hallmarked for Birmingham 1902 together with the maker's initials for the famous silversmith, John Grinsell and Sons. An impressive piece measuring 4 1/4" in diameter x 3 1/4" tall. Excellent condition, minor wear commensurate with age. Item ID:39612 FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail Directly From London, England
