Description

Late 19th century Genuine African tribal bow with a variety of rather nasty looking arrows in the original leather and animal skin bag. The bow is 4 foot long and is made from a lovely looking nutty brown hardwood with a great colour and patination. Various arrows as can be seen in the pictures with both wood and iron ends. These are genuine African tribal hunting items and not tourist stuff. The condition of everything is good apart from the bag which is a bit worn and scruffy. Please see all the pictures for full details. CIRCA; 1880 - 1900
