Description

A nice signed English Victorian brass and mahogany three draw telescope in good original condition. This telescope has lens protectors front and back and a pull-out protector on the front to protect lens in bad weather. Total length (fully extended) is 37 1/2" (95cm) - for photographic reasons, none of the pictures have the telescope pictured at full length. Folds down to 12 1/2" (approx 31cm) and diameter is 2 1/2" (approx 6cm). Maker is Thomas Rowell or Hartlepool. Circa 1870. Worldwide, first class, tracked and signed for delivery is included in the price. Weight: 1214g Has a lot of the original lacquer on brass and for this reason we have not polished it so the buyer can decide. In working order.
