Description

A good carved oak pew of neat proportions, it has carved flower ends to the arms with a "Gothic" design finials to the ends of the pew. The back of this interesting pew has another "Gothic" carved design and there is an area of old worm, this area is old and very hard, shown clearly in the photographs. The back of the seat is a fielded panel, a really fine example of an oak pew, this is a really good interiors piece.
