Description

This large antique walnut wardrobe is a real stand out piece of furniture of high quality & is very practicable too. The outside is composed of three burr walnut doors sitting on a shaped carved base with carved shaped legs. The top cornice is spectacular in its shape & superb carvings. The inside has been very thoughtfully constructed. The left hand double compartment has a mirror on the door, a rail for hangers & even a shoe rack at the bottom. The single right hand compartment has shelves on the top & drawers below. This wardrobe has a nice mellow colour & a good pattern within the burr walnut panels. It's in excellent condition & dates to around the 1910 period. It also comes apart quite easily & there are no screws holding it together. The top cornice just lifts off, the middle separates into two pieces & the base is separate too. Width – 63?, 160 cm Depth – 25?, 63 cm Height – 79.5?, 202 cm
