Description

This inlaid music cabinet dates from 1920 and is in good original condition. Clearly having been looked after over almost 100 years it is in a good tidy original condition. The colour is good and the attractive inlays all in place. The drawers have the falling fronts so the internal papers can be seen. This was given as a present in 1920 as a wedding gift. The little back carries a plaque with the information which is lovely to have some history. The cabinet was made by the Lidstone cabinet company and carries the label and the impressed stamp. Super looking useful little item with a number of uses other than just music, very reasonable price too. Reserved
