Description

Beautiful set of oak drawers dating from the 19th Century. They are of traditional form set on bracket feet with brass plate handles. They are very well made and in good original condition with a lovely warm patina. The drawers run well and it is a clean sturdy set. There are the usual light signs of wear and age and some patches of discolouration on the side panels but nothing detrimental. The handles are not original and have been changed at some point. They are a nice set of handles and in keeping with the period but on the bottom drawer you can just see evidence of the marks left from the old handles below the new ones. Overall a good quality set. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask. Nationwide delivery available, please get in touch for an accurate quote.
