Description

Stunning late Regency / William IV period mahogany secretaire bookcase of the highest quality attributed with some certainty to GILLOWS of LANCASTER. The bookcase is a great size and is a super mellow colour with original finish. The base section with fully fitted secretaire drawer above 2 cupboard doors standing on original bracket feet. The drawer with original turned rosewood knobs. The quality of the inside of the secretaire drawer is outstanding, as good as I have seen, all the drawers are mahogany lined throughout with the tiniest dovetails you have ever seen. The drawers all have their original small turned ebony knobs. Everything runs smoothly. The cupboard section is divided vertically in half and has two original, fully adjustable shelves, one on each side. There are also 6 additional later shelves as the previous owner had store documents. The top section has two doors with really lovely simple glazing with a wee turned urn detail to the top. Nice shape cornice above with 5 fully adjustable shelves inside with beautifully moulded mahogany front edges. Both sections have fancy reeded type square mouldings up the ends and there are numerous astragal mouldings d...
