Description

2 Late C19th copper 'coppers' of riveted construction with verdigris patination. Two copper vessels with superb aged and verdigris patina and colour. Having been conceived for domestic or industrial use as hot water vessels, both now have punched drainage holes to the bases having been used as garden jardinières or planters. The top edges with flattened lips. Good solid construction and condition with no splits or cracks. Riveted base and seams giving strong industrial feel.
