Description

This lovely antique pine chest of drawers was once used as a child's clothes storage piece, due to its size. It is very low but quite wide, so does actually hold a fair amount of clothing. We also think it would make an excellent shoe store in a hallway, as it is the right height and strong enough to sit on when putting your shoes/boots on. It would also make an excellent TV stand with plenty of storage space below for all your accessories or a coffee table alternative! In excellent condition throughout, dating from 1925. It is now ready for waxing or painting having recently been stripped to the bare wood. Height: 27.5", width: 48", depth: 23"
