Description

A very good quality and well-proportioned leather upholstered carved walnut wing chair circa 1920's. Having a camel shaped back flanked by out swept winged sides which concave to join the outward scrolling armrests, having brass studwork nailing and terminating in an elegant tightly scrolled column. The seat having a feather down cushioned squab offering luxurious comfort when seated, supported by finely carved solid walnut cabriole front legs with acanthus leaf and foliate decoration which continues around the frieze of the armchair. In excellent condition this antique leather wing chair has been reupholstered in the traditional manner with hand dyed leather and is not only a very handsome chair but also a very comfortable one as well. We specialize in leather upholstery and have sold many leather chairs to interior designers, trade and private clients from all over the world. This is a wonderful and extremely comfortable wing armchair of excellent shape and proportions upholstered in a chestnut hand coloured leather.
