Description

A handsome antique Regency mahogany folding card table or hall table. The top is supported by a central rectangular column which stands on concave base supported by 4 curved swan neck shaped feet culminating in brass casters. The top lifts up and rotates to reveal a green baize surface for playing cards, chess, board games etc. The mahogany is beautifully figured and aged with a superb colour. In good condition, solid and sturdy, would make a lovely card table or could be used as a hall table or console table. Construction/Wood: Mahogany Condition Report: Good condition, solid and sturdy. Superb warm colour to the well figured mahogany. Green baize top doesn't quite fit right; would benefit new playing surface. Wear and marks commensurate with age.
