Description

A George III Chippendale mahogany serving or console table of a good bold design with blind fret applied to the frieze and the legs and open fret brackets; original dark grey limestone top. Good original condition and patina, the frame, backboard and feet indicate that it has some considerable age - it was probably made between 1770 and about 1820 and is certainly not late 19th Century. Provenance: bears the label of the Marquess of Bute, Cardiff and Carlisle and was bought from a lodge in Scotland together with a Chippendale secretaire bookcase « less Circa: 1820

Internal Ref: S822
