Description

A superb large Victorian antique tortoiseshell case magnifying glass, measuring 3 7/8" in length when all closed up. The two large Scottish or English horn rimmed magnifiers can be pushed or pulled out either side and can be used separately or together giving an outstanding strong magnification. There is a tiny damage to one of the glasses at the outer edge, really insignificant but mentioned for accuracy. The shell and horn both in fabulous condition; as useful today as 150 years ago.
