Description

Do you know someone called Leslie, could this be the perfect and very reasonably priced gift? This little medicine chest from around 1900 is just the job we suggest. It is in mahogany with the original catches on the front. There have been a couple of repairs over the years but it is still in tidy condition, it has a lined base section and the hinges have been replaced so no worries about the top coming off when you are rushing to grab a plaster. The top has an inlaid plaque in wood with the words 'Leslies Domestic Medicine chest' It of course does not have to be for Leslie, it can suit anyone, a little piece of history for only £25.00
