Description

A delightful early 19th Century watercolour of shells and seaweed in the original black and gold glass mount and frame. This unusual still life study, by a highly competent but unknown hand, is very well painted. The condition of the watercolour is very good, the colours are crisp and bright and the original frame is in good order. A very decorative and interesting antique painting. c.1820 Width: 8.5" (21.5cm) Height: 7.75" (19.5cm)
