Description

An elaborate antique pine desk dating from 1920, in good condition throughout. A large piece of furniture with plenty of storage space for all your stationary needs. The top section consists of a centre glazed cupboard, with a single shelf inside, and four small drawers, two on the right of the cupboard and two on the left. There is very ornate crown piece which gives this desk a regal feel to it. The writing surface is of a good size and actually slides out allowing more legroom space. The base consists of three drawers above two single shelved cupboards either side of the knee hole. Currently in the bare wood having recently been stripped. It will look very nice once wax polished. The top separates from the base for delivery. Height 70", work surface height 32.5", width 52.5", depth 28.5" Knee hole height 25", knee hole width 20.5"
