Description

A very unusual leather armchair with removable original velvet covered seat cushion. The leather on this stunning armchair has developed the wonderful patination and mellow warm brown tone that is only acquired with age. The decorative studding, which continues to the legs is a typical decorative feature on early 20th Century chairs. The armchair is in good condition, there is a small historic repair to the inner seat, this cannot be seen when the cushion is in place. This is not detrimental to the chair and is shown in the photographs. The state of the leather is good, there is minor evidence of wear and use as can be expected with an item in use for 100 years, this only adds to the charm and character of the chair. This stylish, small proportioned leather armchair is extremely comfortable and would be a very decorative and useful addition to any interior. c.1920 Height: 25.5" (65cm) Width: 27.5" (70cm) Depth of seat: 20.5" (52cm) Height of seat: 14.4" (37cm)
